The primary aim of this four week programme is to equip students with the contextual knowledge to answer the question: “How does India manage its environment and what that would mean in the context of global environmental challenges?” The course will provide a historical overview of the policies and narratives surrounding Indian environmental management, a summary of the current challenges and innovations, an introduction to modern day stakeholders, and a glimpse of the possible outcomes in the context of SDGs.

For more information go to: http://www.nordiccentreindia.com/exploring-the-environment-in-india/ or write to contact@nordiccentreindia.com.